

What is Project Baseline?

Verily, an Alphabet company dedicated to making health information useful, created Project Baseline to help build the next generation of healthcare tools and services. In collaboration with the California Governor's office, federal, state and local public health authorities, we are using these efforts to facilitate screening and testing people for COVID-19.

The COVID-19 Program

The COVID-19 Program is a collaboration between Verily's Project Baseline and the state of California to expand access to COVID-19 screening and testing in areas with a high volume of known cases.

The COVID-19 Program is focused on:

- Helping those with concerns about COVID-19 to possibly get tested free of cost
- Enabling public health officials to target testing efforts

Who is eligible to get screened for COVID-19 testing?

- Age 18 or older
- Located in one of the counties where testing is currently available (Santa Clara County and San Mateo County)
- Willing to sign COVID-19 Public Health authorization form

The website for screening is:

How does the screening process work?

Creating an account

We ask that you create a Google Account or connect your existing Google Account to participate in this program.

Completing a COVID permission form

In order for information collected by Project Baseline to be used for COVID-19 screening, individuals will need to sign a public health authorization form.

Taking a screener

You'll share some information about your health and symptoms based on guidelines from public health officials.

If eligible, get tested for COVID-19

Based on the COVID-19 screener and testing appointment availability, you will learn whether you qualify for free testing and where you can get the testing done.

Receive your results

Once tested, you'll be informed via email of your COVID-19 test results.
